The First Real Million Dollar Picture!

Written, Directed by

Von Stroheim
A Man You Will Love To Hate

This wonderful picture is an accurate portrayal of the famous gambling resort of Monte Carlo and represents the thrills of that world famous place of the high debauchee and villain.

"FOOLISH WIVES" portrays a bogus count and his two accomplices, Russian Princesses, in the foul scheme of attempting to drag down the beautiful wife of an American diplomat. The story of villainy and its tragic outcome are vividly portrayed.

It is claimed it cost more than a million dollars to produce this marvelous film and required more than eighteen months to execute it. It has had long runs in many cities and is regarded as one of the masterpieces of the movie world.

It is very likely that never before was it shown in a town the size of Crossville because of the heavy cost. It will be shown at the MECCA THEATER THURSDAY, FRIDAY and SATURDAY nights OCTOBER 26, 27 and 28.

ONE of the greatest advantages in using Carey Roofing is that it is always uniform—the same quality in every roll, the same thickness at every point, the same rugged durability. A roof is no stronger than its weakest spot. There are no weak spots in Carey Roofing.

WOMEN SHOULD BE ACTIVE IN PARTY OF THEIR CHOICE

That Way, and That Way Alone, They Can Make Themselves the Most Effective.

When women attained suffrage, it was the advice of Mrs. Catt that they should go into the party of their choice and be active in it, having an influence on its policies—otherwise what was the use of the ballot? They had "indirect influence" before, and if they were to stay outside the parties they might as well not have the vote.

As individuals, we have a certain influence—not very much among more than one hundred million people—but, joining with others, moving in the same direction we are going, we are a force which is not only the sum of the force of the individuals in it, but the group gains a certain additional momentum of its own.

Do you remember the Roman story of the bundle of sticks? It was easy to break one but, bound together, they could not be broken.

Women's clubs discovered long ago that if one individual should suggest to the mayor that she would like a drinking fountain on the corner, she would be ignored, but if the club appointed a committee to interview him on the subject, it would bring results.

So it is with a political party. Speaking for many, its voice is powerful. If the party is in authority, its voice is all-powerful, for the political party in power is, for the time being, the government.

You belong either to the governing class or the governed class. You take your choice since the ballot is open to every adult citizen. It is told of Roosevelt, when a youth, that he suggested one evening going to a meeting of the ward politicians. Certain of his family remonstrated with him, saying, "They are a low class of persons, saloon keepers and ignorant men." "Then," replied the young Roosevelt, "it is all the more necessary that I go. They are the governing class for they are controlling politics. We who stay away permit them to govern. I intend to belong to the governing class."

The other day in an immense national park, I noticed there were no pedestrians, although walking was not forbidden, but afoot one would never get very far on the long stretches of winding road. With the immense complexities and problems of our great country, one-man effort is negligible. To get anywhere we must annex ourselves to modern, organized methods. That is a very easy thing to do. There is nothing exclusive about political parties. On the contrary it is continually bidding for workers.

At this period, the Republican party is especially amenable to the efforts of women. Any earnest woman who wants to make her ballot of real use for the betterment of her home, her community and her nation; and who has a high altruistic purpose to serve her generation, will find a responsive field for her activities in the Republican party. The Republican party gave the ballot to the women. It has already placed women in office in towns, states and nation. It nominated and elected the two only women who have thus far been members of the Congress.

In the present campaign, it has on its tickets, in localities where there is a chance of election, more women candidates than all the other parties put together.

Other parties have nominated women candidates where there is no possible chance of election; that is no compliment to the sex, but rather shifting on them something which nobody wants.

If any women wishes to accomplish anything politically, she stands a splendid chance of doing it in the Republican party—much better than anywhere else.

POTATOES AND OLIVES SERVED EN CASSEROLE

HOW often have you said: "This recipe is excellent, but some of the ingredients would be hard to get?"

Here is one that needs nothing but a few potatoes, and a bottle of Spanish green olives that may be procured at the nearest corner grocery—yet Potatoes and Olives en Casserole is "fit for a king."

Peel and boil some good mealy potatoes. Mash them. Pile them in a glass baking dish, leaving an opening in the center. Put in oven and brown. Before sending to table, fill the center with one cup chopped Spanish green olives.
